

How do you feel now towards the part that makes you eat?

I feel compassion for it...

I'm thinking: "Poor little sweetheart. It's doing its best to put out the fire!" whereas before that I was starting to hate it!

Can you make it feel that compassion you feel for it?

Yes.

How is it reacting?

It can't believe it! It finally feels recognized!

Yes, firefighter parts often really need recognition.

BAD!

Hey!

Eating video games
Social media
Alcohol
Drugs

They're often thought of very poorly in our society, which judges and rejects them, when actually they're just doing their best to keep our system in balance.

Ooh... Now I'm seeing all those fires they put out!

(Porco's life flashing by)

I feel so much gratitude now that I realize everything it's done when it was being criticized from all sides!
